

This is a collection of descriptive grammars and pedagogical textbooks, mostly in PDF form, of various natural languages and a few prominent created languages. It contains well over 2400 separate grammar books and dictionaries encompassing 1363 languages from every inhabited region of the globe. This is not my collection, but the original source has disappeared.

None of the documents in this folder belong to the uploader nor are they uploaded with the intention of causing a copyright infringement. They were originally uploaded to preserve grammar and vocabulary from small, nearly-extinct languages and to be of help to people learning these languages. If you are the author or own the copyright of one or several of these documents, please send a message to spraakochlunnefaaglar@gmail.com and I will remove your documents from the folder.
