

(U//FOUO) Reminder: Nominations Sought for D&D Awards

FROM: [REDACTED]
Intelligence Security Issues (S02L3)
Run Date: 04/28/2005

(U//FOUO) There's still time to submit your nomination for a prestigious Intelligence Community award for identifying adversarial use of Denial & Deception (D&D) tactics. The Foreign Denial and Deception Committee will hold its tenth annual D&D awards ceremony on 26 October 2005. Submit your nomination to S02L3, Intelligence Security Issues, by Friday, 13 May 2005.

(U//FOUO) The awards are intended to cover work substantially completed from June 2004 to the present. Principally, nominees must have developed a successful strategy or program to overcome adversarial denial and deception efforts in the areas of: analysis, collection, research and development, training and education, or counterintelligence and security. Anyone is welcome to submit a nomination for an individual or team effort.

(U) Please go to S02L3's Denial & Deception web page to find all appropriate instructions and forms for application at:

[REDACTED]

(U//FOUO) PLEASE E-MAIL THE FORM WITH YOUR WRITE-UP BY 13 MAY TO DL_S02L3_ALL. If you have any problems opening the forms on the D&D website, please do not hesitate to contact us, and we can e-mail you the appropriate documents. Questions should be addressed to SID's D&D Staff Directors, [REDACTED] or [REDACTED] at [REDACTED].
