

(U//FOUO) Reminder: It's a BREEZE: Help Us Pick the Next-Generation Collaboration Tool!

FROM: Product Line Implementation (X522)
Unknown
Run Date: 09/11/2006

(U//FOUO) ITD's Collaboration Testing Initiative is currently in need of analysts to help test a collaboration tool named BREEZE, starting in September! To participate, you must register -- see below for details.

(U//FOUO) BREEZE, and other such tools we have already tested*, facilitate the creation of virtual work groups. Multiple users are provided the capability of working together through online video/audio conferencing, online chat, bulletin boards, white boards and shared applications.

When:

(U//FOUO) Please join us in testing BREEZE! Each day consists of 4 hours (0900-1100 then 1300-1500). Day 1 is for learning how to use the application, and day 2 is for working an actual scenario.

(U//FOUO) The training schedule is as follows:

- 18-19 September 2006 - Group 1
- 20-21 September 2006 - Group 2
- 25-26 September 2006 - Group 3

Where:

(U//FOUO) The Technology Test & Evaluation (TTE) is located in Room 2N051 of OPS1 [REDACTED] [REDACTED] -- the door appears to be locked, but is not: you can walk right in. After you walk through the door and up the ramp, turn RIGHT and the LAB is located to the RIGHT.

Registration:

(U//FOUO) Please go to the Event Registration System/Collaboration Tool Testing webpage to register for the date you prefer.

POC:

(U//FOUO) If you have any questions about this testing initiative, contact [REDACTED]
